Memorable Moments in Diocesan History - 1820 Bicentennial 2020 – 200 years

The K.K.K.'s anti-Catholic campaign even included the charge that the Knights of Columbus were a terrorist conspiracy. They asserted that Fourth-Degree Knights were required to take an oath vowing to “extirpate” “all heretics, Protestants, and Masons [. . .] from the face of the whole earth,” to “hang, burn, waste, boil, flay, strangle, and bury alive” all heretics. Just for fun, you could ask your friends and family members in the K of C if this sounds like their experience in the organization (of course, I am kidding). But such lies were believed in 1920s Virginia.
